

If everything works, you should see the file download status bar in Google Chrome look like this. Specifically the N-Link logo, signifying that the file should be recognized by N-Link and can be successfully loaded on to your TI-Nspire granted you already have nPDF and ndless installed.

Best of luck!